Here's what some of our clients are saying about the Future Teachers Programme.

"The Future Teachers programme has benefited our school in number of ways. We've been able to provide support lessons from well qualified and enthusiastic graduates with a passion for their subject. The graduates have in turn benefited from regular engagement with teachers in the subject area to help prepare them for a career in teaching. A number have gone on to successfully complete teacher training programmes and subsequently been recruited by us in teaching roles, confident that they know the school and we know their capabilities"

Sean McGovern - School Business Manager,
St James High School

"Glenmoor and Winton Academies launched an ambitious teacher training programme in 2017 in collaboration with Teaching Personnel. The vision was to take young, ambitious and dedicated graduates from the point of expressing an interest in working in schools to qualified teacher status in two years. The work we have done with Teaching Personnel has allowed a joined up approach to be adopted to ensure we attract the best possible graduates to the 'GW Train to Teach' programme. The financial commitment is significant, but favourable if you attract the right candidate which Teaching Personnel have supported the Academies in helping to achieve"

Ben Antell - South Coast Executive Principal

"We have worked in partnership with Teaching Personnel for a number of years. We provide high class CPD to Teaching Personnel colleagues. As a result, we receive high calibre colleagues on supply and utilise their Future Teachers as graduate TAs to support teaching and learning, vulnerable pupils and cover. This relationship allows us the flexibility to maintain the highest classroom standards and provide the best care to our students"

Patrick Murden - Executive Principal,
St Patricks RC High School, National Teaching School
